MOTION PICTURES UNDER BAN

Governor Campbell Will Try to Prevent Their Exhibition in the State of Texas.

Austin, Texas, July 6.—The motion pictures taken in Reno of the Jeffries-Johnson fight will not be shown in Texas if Governor Campbell has his way. It is understood that the governor will bring up the matter during the first days of the special session of the legislature. Such action is necessary before the showing of the films can be prohibited.

In the opinion of Governor Campbell the displaying of such moving pictures would tend toward race riots.

JAS. J. JEFFRIES HOME TOWN

Defeated Champion Will Retire There—Worth Quarter Million.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 6.—In this city, which has been James J. Jeffries' home for years, interest in the outcome of Monday's championship battle was intense. Almost the entire population was convinced that Jeffries would be the victor. At the former champion's home it was stated that he is expected here, accompanied by his wife, by Wednesday, and he will settle down in Los Angeles. Those in a position to know said that with his end of the purse and other share, Jeffries' fortune at this time is considerably more than $250,000.

NEGRO LYNCHED NEAR CORSICANA

Corsicana, Texas, July 6.—At Rodney, a small country postoffice 25 miles southwest of here, Monday about noon a young negro man entered the home of Hub Bailey, a merchant there, and with a razor in his hand attempted to criminally assault his bride of three weeks.

The young woman grappled with her assailant and got the razor, when the negro fled.

There was a picnic in the neighborhood and the news was taken to the crowd there and a posse of more than 200 men was soon in search of the assailant.

Richland creek bottom in that section was hunted through all that night and just before day yesterday morning the negro was caught and taken before the lady, who identified him, and at 7 o'clock the culprit was hung by the enraged people of the neighborhood.

The negro was a stranger there and his name and where he came from are unknown.

FALL OF BRIDGE CLAIMS VICTIMS

At Utica, Illinois, One Person is Dead and 30 Are Seriously Injured.

La Salle, Ill., July 6.—One person is known to have been killed and 30 seriously injured, two probably fatally, when a bridge collapsed during a Fourth of July celebration at Utica, Ill., yesterday.

There were 200 persons on the bridge at the time and practically all of them were thrown into the water. The person killed was Rose Taylor, aged 16 years, of Utica.

The crowd had gathered to see a tug race. As the tug went under the structure the entire crowd pushed to the railings of the bridge and it went down.

The crowd on shore immediately began the work of rescue and it was due to the quick action of several men that the fatalities were not greater.

RECEIPTS OF BIG MILL

Reno, Nev., July 6.—Tex Rickard gave out last night an official statement of receipts and the attendance at the big fight. It shows the total gate receipts were $270,775. Those that paid admission number 15,760.

In addition to those who paid to see the fight, Rickard says there were 760 complimentary tickets given to the press and others. He estimates the number that slipped in at various places around the arena, breaking in holes in the boarding or climbing up the rim of the big structure at 1,500. All told, the attendance is given at 18,260.

There were sold 1,258 seats at $50; 150 at $40; 634 at $20; 1,505 at $25; 1,457 at $20; 1,706 at $15 and 9,050 at $10.

The purse with the bonuses given the two fighters amounted to $121,000 and Rickard figured that his expenses at San Francisco cost him about $30,000. Thus he and his partner, Gleason, will have a profit of $120,000.

WHO WILL WREST BELT FROM NEGRO

Fight Followers at Sea as to Whom They Can Turn.

New York, July 6.—For the first time in the prize ring, a negro is the undisputed-heavyweight champion of the world. And what white man is there in sight today who can wrest that title from John Arthur Johnson?

That is the question which the fight followers of New York, as well as of the whole country are asking today. The only answer is an echo—"Who?"

The only hope the fans can see today lies in Al Kaufman, but it is admitted generally that this hope has not a very solid foundation. Kaufman, while young, big and strong, has hardly given evidence as yet of possessing the qualities of a first-class fighter. Aside from him the pugilistic horizon can be scanned in vain.

Despite this situation, however, followers of the game are cheering each other by recalling some not too ancient ring history. It is pointed out that after Sullivan had defeated Kilrain, it was predicted that no man could be found to defeat the mighty John L., but along came Jim Corbett, the young ex-bank clerk, who sent Sullivan down to bitter defeat. Admirers of Corbett, calling attention to his admittedly great cleverness and quickness, were equally sure that there was no man in sight to wrest the title from him. And yet Bob Fitzsimmons, at that time fighting as a mid-weight, came out of his class and took the crown from Gentleman Jim. And so, they reason, somewhere there may be even now a sturdy youth who is destined to bring the ring laurels back to the Caucasian race.

CEDAR CREEK PICNIC.

Quite a number of our people went to the picnic at Cedar Creek bridge today, including all the candidates. They had not returned at the hour of going to press and we have not been apprised of the doings of the day. The candidates spent yesterday at a barbecue at Millican and today at Cedar, forty miles away, which, to say the least, is giving them a run for their money. It is so strenuous some of them declare they wished the election was today instead of the 23d.
